U. S. DISTRICT COURT—Oct. 7, 18%.

John Henderson agt. Steamship Union.

The libelant, the owner of the ship Charles, of Balburge, heretofore filed his libel sainst the steamship Union, to preover the damages which he had sustained by reason of a collision between his ship and the Union. The amount demanded by the libel when originally filed, was four thousand dollars. A warrant issued sgainst the steamer by virtue of which she was taken by the Marshal into the custody of the Court, to respond to the damages which might be recovered. Paul Spofford and others were permitted to file their claim to the steamer as owners. By order of Court the steamer was delivered to the claimants, upon their entering into a stipulation in the sum of four thousand dollars, the amount originally demanded in the libel. Subsequent to this, and before the trial of the case, the amount awarded to the libelant was over eight floward of the case, the amount awarded to the libeiant was over eight floward dollars, and a decree was entered that the steamer be consequent in that amount.

As the stipulation is for only four thousand dollars, the smount critically demanded in the libel, the libelant now makes his motion that the court order that the decree which has been entered be amended, so as that by such amended decree, the claimants be ordered to pay the excess of damages decreed to be recovered over the four thousand dollars, the amount of the stipulation. This motion is resisted.

The libel is arainst the steamer, and against her only. The Belant in his libel, looks to the steamer to be indemnified for the damage which he has sustained. He seeks satisfaction from the thing that caused the injury, and not from the owner of the Ming which produced it. The libel is in rew, and not in personem and in rew. The motion seeks to make not only the rew responsible for the damage which the libelant could not, in one libel, proceed against the steamer in rew, and against the owners in personam, that a motion which contemplates on one libed, to obt damages incurred, provided the stip liheled is holden to respond to such damages. The claim of the claimant is not that, at the time of the collision, he was the owner of the vessel proceeded against. Such a claim would not authorize him to intervene, and have the vessel delivered to him. It is that at the time the vessel proceeded against was taken by the Marshal into the custody of the Court, she was cowned by the claimant; that at the time the claim is filed she is so owned. Such an ownership would not involve a personal liability for a collision which occurred at some prior time, when the claimants may not have been owners. The specific object, therefore, of the libelant is his motion to have the decree in this case amended in the manner as above claimed cannot be obtained.

But upon a proper state of facts the libelant can have the decree as it now is satisfied in full. The steamer was attached to answer any decree which might be passed on the libel that was filed. Such decree is a lien upon her. She was, by the order of Court, delivered to the claimants upon a stipulation, which, at the time it was taken, was supposed to be sufficient to satisfy any decree which might be passed. It now appears that that stipulation is not sufficient. Upon such insufficient stipulation the property attached has, by the Court, been placed in the bands of the claimants. By its being so placed upon such insufficient stipulation, under the control of the Court, and subject to stic direction. For any good canse shown it may be ordered back into the custody of the Marshal, for the purpose of satisfying the lieu established by the directes. It is sometimes so ordered back, upon the supplication of one or more of the sureties, when such surety wishes no longer to be holden upon his stipulation. It is so ordered back, when the sureties prove to be insufficient, or when for any cance the stipulation, that the property attached. It is, notwithstanding the thandant upon his stipulation, should not be ordered back, when the sureties pr

COMMERCIAL MATTERS.

The forekn news was interpreted as unfavorable to-day in the street, and, without any appearance of panie, there was a downward tendency of prices in nearly every description of fancies. The decline ranged from i to 11 & cent. The shorts, although they bought cash stock to some extent, were free sellers on time, and appear to look for a further considerable fall. The advance in the rate of interest by the Bank of England could not have been unexpected by any one who has watched the signs of the times, yet it seems to have had the same effect as if it had come without premonition. The influence of the fereign news is at present decidedly upon the bear side; and in such a state of the market a small The favorable features of the news for this country, the advance in Breadstuffs and the firmness of Cotton which more than counterbalance the advance in interest are entirely overlooked by the bear interest, who only see the dark side of things. Added to the tone of the foreign advices, is the apprehension of a stringent money market during the coming thirty or sixty days. These together have given the bears a confidence to sell which has over-supplied the market with stocks, and given it a downward tendency which the bulls have been unable to re-At the Second Board the transactions were unusually large, and lower prices were submitted to. Reading fell off to 791, at which it closed-a fall of 1 ? cent. was offered at 824 at the close-a decline of 1 & cent. Among the firmest stocks was Cumberland, which sold at 18, seller sixty. Nicaragua is 51. In Western Shares there is a general decline, excepting in La Crosse, the demand for which continues active at advanced prices. Small sales of the stock were made at 831, and at the close 85 was bid regular, and 86, buyer sixty. There was very little stock on the market. The bonds of this Road have also improved materially in a few days, with considerable sales. Michigan Southern closed at 86; Rock Island sold at 89; Toledo. 741: Michigan Central, 911: Galena, 109: Illinois Central, 115, &c., showing a general decline. Recutrys.—The receipts show a forther improvement this week, amounting at all points to 66,00 bales, against 70,000 same week hast year, making the total to date 109,000 bales. Up to within the present week there has been a considerable decrease as compared with the unpreveniented large receipts to this date of hast year; but for the next few weeks it is probable they will compare more favorably and most of the present decrease be recovered by the end of November.

PRICES, EXPORTS, &c.—There has been nothing during the past week to interfere with the upward course which prices have taken so far since the opening of the season. Cotton has not at present arrived in sufficient quantities to supply the early demands of French orders and the wants of home consumers, and until they are satisfied for a time it does not appear that a lower range of prices can be calculated upon. The reports from the interior have electrical considerable influence on some operators lately, and over-analous buyers have manifested such agreement the purchase of cotton that prices are yet supported at rates which cannot be expected to be maintained after their present requirements have been ment by larger supplies.

Naw Caur.—Our reports of the growing crop received during the past week contain little of interest differing from previous accounts. The complaints from the planters continue as before but the chief point of attention is now the accounts of frost from the interior, which we have yet to learn as having done any material damase.

Two lovementives on the Mineral Point Railroad are

The causes and effect of this movement are detailed in the liberal extracts we give below from the Lendon journals. The immediate effort was to make money easier, a considerable portion of the previous demand having been in anticipation of this advance. Consols had fluctuated materially, but finally closed at 921 @ 921 firm. There was a current ramor in London on Friday evening that the Bank of France had suspended specie payments, but there is no direct confirmation of the report. A passenger by the Persia who made arrangements to receive the confirmation by telegraph from London at Liverpool on Saturday if it came from Paris, did not receive any dispatch. On the other hand, a letter received by a meresatile house here has a postscript dated Friday evening, states the fact positively. The agent of a Paris banking house here has a letter with a postseript at the latest moment, stating that the Bank had decided to enspend specie payment, and that the funds had in consequence risen 2 per cent. Another Paris letter to a banking house here mentions the fact of the improvement in Rentes, but is unable to account for it.

than Thompson, Elisha E. Morgan, Gabriel Mead, I The suspension of the Bank is not an impossible event, but it is doubtful if it has yet talplace. The effect of such a step would understedly be to step the drain of gold from England and make an easier Money market in both countries. Rates of interest continue very high in all parts of the Continent, and at Hamburg the almost, unexampled rate of 91 P cent ruled. The Bank of Vienna, a non specie paying institution, it will be seen, has absorbed about $20,000,000 of specie, which has been drained from England and France. Much of this specie was sent to Austria by the Crédit Mobilier for the purchase of Austrian railways. The advices are very favorable for our Cotton and Breadstuffs, and trade generally appears to be in a healthy state.

"Our Money Market has exhibited great stringency during the past week. The Bank of England reserved to the unusual course of ruising, a day prior to the weekly Court Meeting, their minimum rate of discount from 4; to 5 $\text{P}$ cent, and a inriber advance may be looked for, if the drain of specie benot checked. Anticipations are entertained that the Bank of France may have to suspend specie payments. No panie has been ceased in this market, although there have been considerable fluctuations in hour funds, increased by the approach of a very heavy "settling day" happening concurrently with other causes all entered to produce a great demand for money. The sudden advance in the rates of interest in all the money markets of Europe, has given rise to extreme caution on the part of the public, tending further the establish the confidence which is first in the sability of monetary affairs in this country.

The London Daily News notices, as a remarkable fact, that, on the day of the advance of the Bank rate, and in the face of the pressure of all other matters money was offered at 4 P cent on Government stock for loans from day to day-parties who were disinclined to part with their money for a lengthened period at that juncture availing themselves of this medium of

"An almost complete cossation of the demand for motey was observable to-day, both at the Bank of England and out of doors, but gold continues to be taken for exportation to the Continent at the rate of about £40,600 per day, and unless a change should take place in this respect, an advance in the rate of discount to 5; $\frac{1}{2}$ cent can hardly be long delayed."

the evening of the 3d inst. remarks as follows:

"The sppearance of the Money market has improved. The raising of the rate of discount by the Bank on Wednesday last has checked the undue demand, and quieted apprehension of any further advance for the present.

The fact of a decline of 3d & dollar in the rate of Exchange at Shanghae, and the additional fact that we are now shipping silver back to the Continent, make a favorable impression.

"There is thought to be some prospect of further relief by a suspension of specie payments in Paris. A rumor of this kind is very prevalent, and its expediency has been under discussion and consideration by the Government for the last week past. In the event of this measure being adopted, the Bank of France would lower the rate of interest to, it is said, 4 & cent."

The advices from the East and the changes in the

The advices from the East and the changes in the rate of interest had checked the disposition to make shipments of silver to China by the mail of the 4th. At one time it was expected the amount would be nearly a million and a quarter sterling, but doubts are now entertained if it will exceed £850,000.

Advices from Nelson, New-Zealand, dated the 20th

From The London Nam, Get. 2.

The Stock Exchange and the public were taken by surprise to-day by the announcement that the authorities at the Bank of England, without waiting for the usual weekly board to-morrow, had raised their rate of discount from 4½ to 5 the cent. It was fully anticipated that this step would be taken to-morrow; but its hasty adoption to-day, involving a course which is almost without precedent, was unfavorably viewed in most quarters as indicating that the pressure at the Bank for accommodation must have been excessive. This impression, we believe, will be fully borne out by the Bank returns, but for these the public must be content to wait no less than ten days, must be content to wait no less than ten days, under the present antiquated system. Pending the deliberations of the Bank Board to-morrow, the meney market will remain in a state of suspense, every one being anxious to learn whether the directors will content themselves with confirming the advance in the rate tent themselves with confirming the advance in the rate to 5 per cent, or raise it at once to 54 per cent. Upon this point opinion in well-informed quarters was much diviced this afternoon. The question for the directors to decide is, whether the advance to 5 per cent will suffice to neet the exigencies of the moment. Any assertions upon the subject can involve merely guess-work, upon which we refrain from entering. The exceptional alteration in the rate of discount on a Wednesday, however, warrants the belief that the directors committed an error in not adopting the measure on Thursday last. Upon the other hand, allowance must be made for the tendency of the public, at periods like the present, to provide themselves with funds in excess of their immediate requirements, by way of precaution. This circumstance is held to account for the somewhat singular abundance of Money in the Stock Exchange to day. In face of the pressure in all other quarters, Money was offered at 4 4° cent on Government Stock for loans from day to day, parties who are disinclined took place to $24, which we fairly maintained to the close. The final prices were $21 to 1 for money and the 8th inst., and $24 to 1 for the November $250 ont. New Three per Cents left off at $21 to 1, ex div.; Exchequer Bonds, $24 to 1, ex div.; Exchequer Bonds, $25 to 10s, premium. An almost complete cessation of the demand for Money was observable to-day both at the Ban's of Easgland and out of doors, but gold continues to be taken for exportation to the continent at the rate of about $40.000 to day, and unless a change should take place in this respect an advance in the rate of discount to $54 to ent can hardly be long delayed.

The final quotations from the Yaris Bourse this evening failed to arrive, but transactions in the Three $40 Cents took place shortly after the opening at $55, for the end of the mouth, showing a further fall of more than a quarter $40 cent.

the end of the mouth, showing a further fall of more than a quarter $\pi$ cent.

The private accounts from Paris are still discouraging. The stock of bullion in the Bank is said to be decreasing daily, and a multitude of groundless reports on the probability of a decree for the suspension of specie payments or for prohibiting the exportation of silver are actively circulated. It is affirmed that tuns of 5-franc pieces are being sent to Paris from the provinces, but that they are all immediately drained away. Among the recent sellers of stock the Credit Moullier are stated to have been the largest, but whether their operations have been from necessity or merely specuoperations have been from necessity or merely specu-lative is not mentioned.

operations have been from necessary of the lative is not mentioned.

From the Vienna Bourse a further rally is reported of nearly if the cent from the decline of 6 the cent which took place a week back. According to the letter of The Times's correspondent at Vienna inserted to-day, the specie in the Austrian National Bank has increased within four or five months from £4,200,000 to £8,000,000—the whole of which, as the State has not yet returned to specie payments, is hoarded in the bank vaults. The fact that the principal part of this increase of £4,400,000 has been drawn from Paris and Germany for railways bought by the Credit Mobilier will greatly help when taken in conjunction with the less of the silk crop, to explain the French financial crisis.

Hamero, Sept. 29.—The very unsatisfactory state of our money market is beginning to excite serious apprehensions among our most experienced financiers, and the great fluctuations in the price of siver and depreciation of the currency, together with the enormous rate of discount, have a disturbing influence on the produce market, and prevent purchases on a large scale from being made by our merchants, who are constrained to limit their transactions to the execution of bona fide orders accompanied by remittances.

In addition to the large quantities of silver bought by them to Austria to pay the workmen and materials of the Great Elizabeth Railroad (Vienna to Linz, to join the Bavarian line), some considerable parcels of the same precious metal have been bought up here by the eminent banking house of Paul Mendelssohn-Bartholdy, and sent to Berlin for coinage at the mint, as the want of an adequate quantity of the circulating medium is severely feit in Prussia, where large quantities of dollars are continually being exported for the purpose of being melted down. There are also at this moment no less than six millions of dollars withdrawn from circulation and deposited in the cellars of the Hamburg Bank.

The rate of discount, which had risen to 9 and 91 The rate of discount, which had risen to 9 and 9; $\psi$ cent, has never been so high here before, with the exception of the great crisis of 18n6, in which year it varied for several months between 10 and 15 $\psi$ cent. Under these circumstances it is proposed to establish a gold standard in addition to the existing silver one. This idde appears to give general satisfaction, and a petition to the Senate on this subject has been got up and lies for signature at the Exchange Rooms.

A steamer arrived in the river to-day from England, brings 50,000 lbs. of silver.
